Four elements to explore the possible future of cities

17 November 2022
9.30 am - 1 pm

Museo Nazionale Scienza e Tecnologia
Leonardo da Vinci - Cavallerizza
Via Olona 6, Milan

Domusforum 2022, the 5th edition, confirms its role as an international think tank, examining and analysing future scenarios and offering hypotheses for what remains humanity's most extraordinary creation: the city to all intents and purposes an organism that, despite everything, is open, with a significant capacity to regenerate and evolve.

Domusforum is a meta-place in which a highly diverse range of forms of knowledge are brought together to respond to current complex and pressing matters that demand simple and tangible answers for a sustainable future that can only emerge from dialogue between differing disciplines. In this sense, architecture, design and art once again serve as open matrices capable of attracting and guiding this dialogue with other disciplines in order to shape the future.

Domusforum 2022 is a physical and digital event taking place in the Museo Nazionale Scienza e Tecnologia Leonardo da Vinci and streamed live on www.domusweb.it.

Free admission to the public on site and for the live streaming with prior registration.
